

CYNTHIA CORSETTI

EXECUTIVE COACH

The reason Cynthia's clients report a 60% increase in productivity? If you ask clients like CMU, Thermo-Fisher Scientific or CMU's Tepper School of Business, they'll tell you it's her "no-nonsense" approach, coupled with her candor, and over 3500 hours of coaching expertise across the span of 15 years.

Prior to transitioning into executive leadership coaching, Cynthia served as the Vice President of Human Resources for a national engineering firm, the President of a county Chamber of Commerce, and Director of Human Resources for a pharmaceutical company during a 200% growth strategy in preparation for an IPO.

CLARITY,
AUTHENTICITY, RESPONSIBILITY & ENGAGEMENT.

A contributing author of "The Successful Mind, Tools to Living a Purposeful, Productive, and Happy Life (2020)", and a 2021 TedX Speaker, Cynthia is an expert in building influence, improving team dynamics, and navigating the most toxic and challenging corporate cultures.

A former corporate executive herself, Cynthia's combination of senior leadership experience, merging of corporate cultures, and leadership development with a focus on EQ and straight talk add to the value proposition she brings to her clients who value her ability to see the nuances in human interaction and how to leverage these nuances to enhance corporate strategy.
